SCHOOL REPORT

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of North Hampton :

I herewith submit my eighteenth report as Superintendent of your schools. The statistics offered are those of the school year 1946-7 with the exception of the September enrollment for the current year and the school census. The financial report is a copy of records sent to the State Tax Commission.

The current year began Monday, September 8, 1947 with an initial enrollment of 119. The comparable figure for last year was 102. The present enrollment in grade eight is thirteen. Were it not for the fact that we have unusually good teachers, the crowded condition of the school would be serious. With eighteen pupils in the initial enrollment of grade one and eleven in grade two, the predicted trend toward larger attendance is already with us. This increase is not temporary but reflects an increased birth rate that is evident from national statistics.

To get as accurate a picture as possible, the Census taken this year recorded all preschool children in North Hampton in September 1947. The results were broken down into entering classes by years. According to this enumeration there are now in town nineteen children who will be eligible to enter next September. Twenty-five first graders may enter in 1949 with ten and sixteen already of age to enter the next two years respectively. As these large classes move up, the problem becomes more difficult.

It would seem that a new school is the only solution. A survey should be conducted to consider the future demand upon the school, taking into consideration the probable growth of the town from a business and residential point of view and the trend of rate of increase in school population. Prospective taxable property and sources of future revenue also enter into the picture. A good school is an asset to any town and an encouragement to people to settle and build homes there. A good school brings increased values to the town. The report of your building committee should be considered from an educational point of view primarily, but its financial benefits should not be overlooked.

The value of a kindergarten to preschool children is becoming increasingly recognized. Social adjustment on their own level may easily be taught to five year olds. The ability to work and to play together, acquired at this early age, brings about an easy adjustment to the formal school work. Habits of health, a happy attitude toward school and the ability to take care of property and to share equipment are early established under a trained kindergarten teacher. If provision can be made for such a school in North Hampton, the investment will prove itself.

The North Hampton Parent-Teacher Association is a valued part of our school. Since several of its members are officers in district and state Parent-Teacher Associations, our group benefits from a wide circle of contacts with co-workers in other towns. The aims of the P. T. A. are best expressed in the objects of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers as determined by that body "To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will receive for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education."

Since the cost of education must advance, the legislature of New Hampshire felt that the increased cost must come from a larger unit than the individual town. For this reason the new education bill allotted two million dollars to the schools, this money to be used to help meet the increased funds needed. North Hampton, for the first time benefitted from state aid. A check for $2,071.44 has been received by the school treasurer. This money will help meet increased expenses and the higher cost of books and supplies.

The State Board of Education believes that teachers may secure valuable training while in service. It is offering education workshops for elementary teachers under the direction of expert supervisors working in the department. In line with this plan, Supervisory Union 21 operated a citizenship workshop in Hampton on January 21, 22, and 23. This year, the content and methods of teaching in art and music, youth activities, and the social subjects were studied. This is a progressive step and one deeply appreciated by the teachers.

A meeting of all teachers in the Union was held on January 15. Here the particular problems of the seven towns were discussed among the teachers themselves. Also, Mr. Hagerstrom of Portsmouth Junior High School spoke of the problem of adjustment to larger schools which children of smaller schools must face. His suggestions for meeting these difficulties should prove of value to our pupils.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Frances Leavitt, North Hampton continues a school where all work together for similar goals. The teachers are not only teaching as a unit, but they are constantly studying together, both within their own group and in extension courses. Our pupils will receive the benefits from this additional effort on the part of their teachers. There are two changes in the staff this year. Mrs. Jeannette Clark came to our fifth and sixth grade room after several years successful teaching of the same grades in Seabrook. She succeeds Mrs. Salomon whose work was so pleasing to the parents of these grades. Mrs. Janice Wholey returns to us as teacher of Art. The benefits from her work will be remembered from the former years in which our children were privileged to receive direction, help and inspiration from her.

It is planned to continue the Guidance service under the direction of the Boston University Counseling Department. North Hampton sends nearly one hundred percent of its graduates to secondary schools. This is a credit to our school and its teachers. It also is increasingly important that proper analysis of each pupils abilities, interests and achievements be made by an experienced counselor. This is the best way to assure success for our children in high school and college. This service, we believe was well worth while last year.

The school boards of New Hampshire are now organized into a state association. Likewise, the boards of the county are working together. Such organizations bring to all the experiences of each. This must result in uniform adoption of the successful procedures and likewise a rejection of the unsuccessful. The results should be an increase in efficiency on the part of the schools. The North Hampton School Board is represented in both state and county groups.

I wish once more to express my thanks to you for help in the administration of your schools. The achievements of our pupils in our own schools and in more advance schools vouches for the success of your work.

Respectfully submitted,

ROY W. GILLMORE,

Superintendent of Schools.

January 30, 1948.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE, 1947-1948

The school examinations were conducted by Dr. Bailey, grades two and six were examined. The other grades were examined by the school nurse. Vision and hearing tests were also given. The audiometer will be used again this year for hearing tests.

Through the generosity of the Red Cross, dental care, orthopedic care, and one tonsil and adenoid case were corrected.

In June, 1947, a summer Round-up Clinic was held under the sponsorship of the Parent Teacher Association. Five children were examined and vaccinated by Doctor Bailey. This clinic enables the parent to correct the defects of the pre-school child before entering first grade in the fall.

Visits are made to the North Hampton school every other Monday.
